Professional Activities

- Understanding Understanding. Workshop Organizing Committee Chair, The Tenth Conference on Artificial General Intelligence, Melbourne, Australia, August 15-18, 2017.
- Understanding Understanding. Workshop Program Committee Member, The Tenth Conference on Artificial General Intelligence, Melbourne, Australia, August 15-18, 2017.
- Architectures for Generality & Autonomy. Workshop Program Committee Member, The 26th International Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence, Melbourne, Australia, August 19, 2017.

Research Skills

- Have extensive experience using SPSS, Stata, SAS, R, HLM, AMOS, and StatTransfer
- Have experience using LISREL, Mplus, EVIEWS, GraphPad Prism, JMP, Minitab, online surveys/data collection, and analyzing survey data
- Have written over 250,000 lines of Stata, SPSS, and SAS syntax
- Have worked with data sets containing 10,000,000+ cases and 10,000+ variables

- Have extensive experience creating, developing, merging, modifying, and converting very large data sets
- Have experience creating Excel templates and macros and computer software programs for the automatic generation of SPSS syntax, the computation of multiple statistical tests, and the filtering of analytical results
- Have extensive experience with regression (linear, logistic, ordered, multinomial, negative binomial, Poisson), structural equation modeling, hierarchical linear modeling, factor analysis, time-series analysis, imputing missing data, and simpler statistical tests (chi-square, ANOVA, t-test, correlation coefficients, etc.)
- Have extensive experience conducting qualitative research
- Have performed accuracy checks for several statistics textbooks published by Sage Publications

Coursework

- Statistics and Research Methods coursework
 - Undergraduate: Statistical Analysis and Design, Research Methods
 - Graduate: Statistics I, Statistics II, Quantitative Research Methods, Quantitative Research Methods II, Qualitative Research Methods, Qualitative Research Methods II, Field Research Methods, Logistic and Hierarchical Linear Models, Structural Equation Modeling, Seminar in Quantitative Methods, Experimental Social Psychology (audited)
- Computer Science coursework
 - Undergraduate: Introduction to Programming, "C" Programming I, Principles of Computer Networks, Introduction to Computer Science & Object-Oriented Programming (exempted)
- Mathematics coursework
 - Undergraduate: Calculus & Analytical Geometry 1, Calculus & Analytical Geometry 2, Calculus III, Linear Algebra, Introduction to Higher Math

Teaching Experience

- Instructor for Social Problems, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Fall 2008
- Instructor for Social Problems, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Fall 2008
- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Summer Session I 2008
- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Spring 2008
- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Fall 2007
- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Eastern Connecticut State University, Fall 2007
- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Eastern Connecticut State University, Fall 2007
- Instructor for Race, Class, and Gender, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Summer Session I 2007

- Instructor for Introduction to Sociology, Eastern Connecticut State University, Spring 2007
- Instructor for Race, Class, and Gender, Writing-intensive section, University of Connecticut, Spring 2007
- Instructor for Quantitative Methods Lab, University of Miami, Spring 2006
- Teaching Assistant for Introduction to Sociology, University of Connecticut, Fall 2006
- Academic Tutor (Statistics), University of Connecticut, August 2008-December 2008
- Academic Tutor (Sociology and Science), University of Miami, August 2005-January 2006

Volunteer Work

- Founding Member, Association of Cryonics Professionals, June 2017-Present.
- Advisor to the Board, Alcor Life Extension Foundation, December 2016-Present.
- Teaching and tutoring, Various organizations, April 2009-Present.

Other Skills

- Have experience programming in Java, C, C++, Python, Visual Basic/BASIC/QBasic, writing HTML, Joomla!, Microsoft Office (Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, and Access), HTML editors, Adobe Acrobat, Adobe Photoshop, FTP clients, Filemaker Pro, Omnipage Pro, MS-DOS, Microsoft Windows 3.1/95/98/2000/XP/Vista/7/8/10, Linux (Red Hat, Mandriva, *buntu), BSD (FreeBSD, OpenBSD), and Mac OS.
- Experience with computer networking, performing computer upgrades, hardware installation and un-installation, hardware replacements, computer assembly, web design, OS installation (Microsoft Windows and several Linux and BSD distributions), software installation and un-installation, and troubleshooting.
- FCC General Class license.
